REGISTERED PROFESSIONAL COACH PROGRAM (RPC)

The Global Institute of Organizational Coaching (GIOC) program begins with a proprietary model for coaching based upon guidelines established through evidence-based coaching practice and the larger body of coaching research. The model delineates core competencies believed to be essential for demonstrating expertise in coaching while providing coaching oversight from master coaches that allows for practice that grows exceptional coaching skills.

REQUIREMENTS

The GIOC core program is the Registered Professional Coach Program (RPC). The RPC Program requires twelve weeks to complete. The program is a combination of virtual training, self-study, coaching oversight and coaching practice. Attendance at virtual training calls is mandatory with self-study reflections completed weekly. Coaching oversight calls will be scheduled every other week. The total hours needed to complete program is 75 hours.
